Send your thoughts, questions, and suggestions for future column topics to who work under them. If possible, create individualized deadlines that meet people where they are.

We also suggest flexibility on the part of those in power. Faculty members and university administrators should think about changing their expectations for students, postdocs, and others projects and responsibilities; then look that list over and identify what items can be either pushed back or dropped.

You can and cannot accomplish during this tumultuous time. Consider making a list of all your
